Do puppets have a soul?

April 12, 2010

That is a dumb question. Of course puppets do not have souls. BUT, they are being used in a tremendous way to reach lost souls.

Our Practically Speaking Children's English has become a favorite of children in the neighborhoods surrounding our partner churches in Nicaragua. By the hundreds, the children, their parents and their teachers pile into the churches or crowd the elementary school courtyards to see Zach, Maggie, Sarah, Julio, Kianu and our other puppet stars perform. All who attend receive a clear and direct gospel message and many respond by accepting Christ. A simple registration form allows our partner churches to follow up on each family.

The puppets we have were generously donated by one of our stateside partner churches. Frankly, they are showing their age with normal wear and tear that detracts from the quality of our puppet presentations. We would like to replace them with new puppets. Please read on to learn how you can help us.

Adopt a Puppet

The puppet stage, sound system and the puppets themselves have become a valuable and effective tool in our work to present the gospel of Christ. Prayerfully consider helping us with the cost of these specific items.

Portable sound system & wireless mic's - $500

Portable puppet stage - $200

Puppets - $45 - $75 each
